HEWLETT-PACKARD COMPANY,

Plaintiff,

v.

REPEAT-O-TYPE STENCIL MANUFACTURING CORPORATION, and FRED KEEN, Defendants.

No. C-92-3330 DLJ

JUDGMENT

In accordance with the Order of the Court of February 7, 1995 granting summary judgment on plaintiff's patent claims in favor of defendants Repeat-O-Type Stencil Manufacturing Corporation and Fred Keen, and against plaintiff Hewlett-Packard Company, and upon determination that there is no just reason for delay, judgment on plaintiff's patent claims is hereby entered in favor of defendants Repeat-O-Type Stencil Manufacturing Corporation and Fred Keen and against plaintiff Hewlett-Packard Company pursuant to Rule 54(b).

IT IS SO ADJUDGED.

Re: In re Fred Keen
Case No. 97-42933

Case No. 97-42935

Dear Judge Winfield:

In reviewing the Court's Orders vacating the stay entered in the above matters on January 12, 1998, I noticed that, in drafting the Orders, I did not explicitly refer to the petition for a writ of certiorari which Hewlett Packard intends to file with the United States Supreme Court You may recall that Ernest Nuzzo, the attorney for the Debtors, had consented to vacate the stay to permit Hewlett Packard to file the petition.

Because the January 12, 1998 Orders are not explicit, I am submitting herewith Amended Orders which make clear that the stay is vacated with respect to the petition for a writ of certiorari, as well as with respect to the post judgment motions. Mr. Nuzzo has authorized me to advise the Court that he has reviewed the Orders and that he has no objection to their entry.

If the Amended Orders are acceptable, would you kindly enter the originals and have the Clerk conform the copies and return same to me in the envelope provided.

Respectfully,

/s/ JACK M. ZACKIN

AMENDED ORDER GRANTING HEWLETT-PACKARD COMPANY RELIEF FROM THE AUTOMATIC STAY

This matter being opened to the Court upon the Motion of Hewlett-Packard Company ("HP") for an Order vacating the automatic stay, and the Court having considered the submissions of counsel for HP and the opposition of the Debtor (if any), and the Court having entered an Order on January 12, 1998 vacating the automatic stay, and it appearing that said Order did not explicitly recite that the stay was vacated for purposes of allowing HP to file a writ of certiorari with the United States Supreme Court, which relief was consented to by the Debtor and verbally ordered by the Court, and good cause appearing for the making and entry of this Order,

IT IS on this day of January, 1998,

ORDERED that effective on January 22, 1998 this Court's Order dated January 12, 1988 vacating the automatic stay imposed by 11 U.S.C. Section 362(a) is hereby amended to explicitly permit HP to file a writ of certiorari to the United States Supreme Court from the decision of the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit in connection with Hewlett-Packard Co. v. Repeat-O-Type Stencil Manufacturing Corporation, Inc., 123 F.3d 1445 (Fed. Cir. 1997), and to take any and all other actions required to prosecute its appeal to the United states Supreme Court, and it is further ORDERED that in all other respects this Court's Order entered on January 12, 1998 vacating the automatic stay remains in full force and effect.
